

Damage Award Is Reversed

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A $68,000 judgement in favor of Perry Ward, Indianapolis, against the Murat Shrine Horse Patrol was reversed Friday by the Indiana Supreme Court.

The high court opinion reversed a 1963 ruling in Johnson Circuit Court where the case was taken on a venue. The opinion, written by Chief Justice Frederick E. Rakestraw, said lower court Judge Robert Lybrook erred in not permitting the jury to be instructed about certain privileges under the slender law.

Ward had charged he was illegally ousted from the Shrine Patrol after he questioned the use of funds from the annual Shrine Circus.

The Horse Patrol appealed the ruling from the Johnson County court to the Appellate Court, which deadlocked 3-3 on the issue and then transferred it to the Supreme Court.

The opinion Friday said no instructions were admitted by the judge which defined "for the doctrine of qualified privilege or enunciated the requirement of proof of malice made necessary the application of the doctrine."

Meredit started his march in Memphis June 5 and was shot the next day near Hernando after covering 27 miles. Civil rights groups took up his march June 7.

Meredit, hit by two rounds of birdshot, said in New York he will join the march next Wednesday "whether I am strong enough or not." A cold has prevented an earlier return.

Aubrey James Norvell, 40, charged with shooting Meredit, was released from jail Friday after his $25,000 bond was posted. He left with his wife, father and brother for an undisclosed destination. "We think the man's had enough publicity," his attorney said.

Leaders say the purpose of the march is to encourage Negroes to register as voters and march leaders are making short side trips to other communities.

14 Youths Are Charged In Raid By Local Police

Preliminary charges of contributing to delinquency and violation of the 1935 Beverage Act have been filed against 14 local youths in connection with a drinking party last night on the property of J. Chambers, near the intersection of Hamilton Rd. and Road 80W.

Jack L. Hendricks, 21, of 832 Winding Way, the only adult apprehended in a crowd of an estimated 100 persons, has been charged along with 13 other younger youths, all of which are being held at the Madison County Jail on $1,000 bond.

A County Sheriff's Department spokesman stated this morning that 3 squad cars and five men from the department, as well as several cars and patrolmen from the Anderson Police Dept. were called to the scene about 1 a.m. He described the location as a wooded area with only one entry, and stated that about 25 youths were caught and returned to the city. The remainder reportedly escaped through the woods and some were reported to have swum White River in attempting to escape.

The spokesman said also that eight cars left at the scene were towed in by Anderson Wrecking Co., and are awaiting claims from their owners. A pickup truck containing approximately 10 cases of beer on it was confiscated at the scene.

The youths under 18 who were apprehended were released to the custody of their parents, apparently as a representative of the local juvenile center stated the local justices in connection with the incident are being held there.

All principals involved who were apprehended will appear in City Court early next week for formal filing of charges.

Medicare Plan Details Given

Herman E. Landes, Anderson Social Security district manager, issued a statement today dealing with the time when federal medical insurance will be effective. He explained that if retirees wait to apply for monthly benefits or Medicare until the month they become 65 or later, their protection under Medicare doctor-bill insurance will not begin until some months after they are 65.

Mr. Landes explained that each person who reaches 65 on or after January 1, 1966, has a seven-month period during which he may enroll for the supplementary medical insurance plan, but the effective date of this protection depends on the date of his application. This individual enrollment period begins with the third month before he is 65 and ends in the third month after his 65th birthday. As an example, Mr. Landes said, if an application is not filed until the month after a person becomes 65, medical insurance coverage does not begin until the first day of the second month after he applies.

Mr. Landes urged everyone who has a 65th birthday approaching, including those who continue working, to file their applications at the social security office two or three months before their 65th birthday. This early action will guarantee full hospital and medical insurance protection beginning on the first day of the month they become 65 (but no earlier than July 1, 1966).

Applicants should bring birth certificates, he added, but if this is not available, the social security office will advise them how they can establish their age.
